This statement is especially true during times of crisis and now, more than ever, in this time of pandemic. I wanted to take this opportunity to share with you how we have adapted library services to ensure that we continue to provide the highest level of service while keeping both library staff and the community as safe as possible.

How has the library adapted services in response to the pandemic? When the COVID outbreak began to shut the community down the library staff responded quickly by moving all children’s storytime programs and classes to Facebook and Zoom. Phone and online information support never stopped and continues to be available during the library’s operational hours as are the online subscription databases accessible via the library website, www.blountlibrary.org, under the Learning Tab. Curbside services, which began in March, make it possible for library card holders to reserve library materials online and pick them up via curbside pickup.

We are excited to announce that curbside service has now become a regular library service moving forward. The Dorothy Herron and Sharon Lawson meeting rooms are now wired to accommodate onsite/online combination meetings as in-person attendance is limited to 32 people per room for social distancing. The library can now schedule and manage Zoom meetings for any community group or organization needing Zoom access and support.

The library building reopened to the public on 6 July 2020 and, as of 1 September 2020, the community has participated in 72 virtual programs and Zoom classes, launched 1,480 continuing education training sessions through online resources, and circulated 5,731 items using curbside service.

What new services are available through the library? With the need to provide as many services digitally as possible, the Library has invested in the purchase of audio and ebooks that are accessible through the Libby app (R.E.A.D.S.). We also added Hoopla, which is a streaming service that provides access to movies, T.V. programs, and comics as well as audiobooks and ebooks. With the Hoopla service there is no waiting as materials in Hoopla are accessible immediately.

The Blount County community has enthusiastically made use of these two resources since March. Between 1 March and 1 September, 1,745 items were checked out from Hoopla and 102,472 items were checked out from R.E.A.D.S.

How have library operations changed to improve staff and community safety?
- Installed an ionization filtering system that kills the COVID virus in the air in July
- Adapted the library layout and staff work spaces to provide the safest possible physical space.
  - Self Checkout stations
  - Disinfecting and quarantining of all items and spaces.
  - Adapted the layout of the building to promote social distancing.
  - Hired two additional facilities staff to help keep the building restrooms, floors, tables and grounds clean and safe through the daily operational hours of the library building.
  - Structured library staff schedule so that no more that two staff are working in a shared space.
  - Installed glass partitions at all customer service desks.
  - Providing 24/7 high speed internet access in the library parking lot, and around the building.

When you visit the library we will take your temperature and highly recommend that you wear a mask and make liberal use of the antibacterial bottles located around the building. Please stay safe!

Best,

K.C. Williams

COMMUNITY CONNECTIONS

In October, we launch 'Community Connections' an awareness campaign of what our community does, needs, and how we can support each other. We are inviting Blount County businesses and nonprofits to highlight job postings, events, and/or promotions on our social media and in house Digital Signage. Please email bcpl.pr@blounttn.org for the guidelines. This campaign will run until mid-December.

HOW CAN WE HELP?

Resources for Home Learners
If your family is homeschooling or doing virtual / online school, we want to help! In addition to our traditional collection of "Teacher Resource" reference books (located in the Children’s Library and available for checkout or curbside service), what other resources can we provide? We're thinking of databases, curated online sites, and the like; and, things like making available a virtual meeting space, such as Zoom or Discord. Reach out and let us know how you'd like your library to support your home learning! Email Jennifer at jsrirko@blounttn.org.
