- Monday, November 6, 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., “Dulcimer Concert” at the library by the Maryville Area Dulcimer Club. The concert, featuring popular, patriotic, classical and even some holiday songs, will be in the Reading Rotunda end of the Main Gallery of the library.

NEW EVENTS: Phone (865) 982-0981 or (865) 273-1428 (See recurring events below the new events)

- Month of October, “2017 Big Read: ‘Station Eleven’ by Emily St. John Mandel.” The community is invited to read the book, attend presentations, participate in games and activities and enjoy interactive exhibits at the library throughout the month of October. These activities and events are sponsored by the Blount County Friends of the Library and coordinated with the Knox County Public Library. Events and activities include:

- October 1 to 31, “Station Eleven Interactive Exhibit” will be in the Reading Rotunda and will feature these interactive exhibits focusing on Station Eleven themes:
 - In the Art Response Room, ponder how art contributes to the human experience. Share your thoughts and questions about creativity, experiences, what “art” means and more.
 - Informational exhibits for: 1918 Flu Epidemic, Emily St. John Mandel, Shakespeare.
 - Write a letter to your family: What would you want to say to your family if you were suddenly gone?
 - Museum of Modern Civilization: Display of modern artifacts and accoutrements – like in the novel. If you’d never seen them before, and had no electricity, could you explain what these items were?
 - Arts & Tragedy: Despite experiencing difficult times, people still desire beauty. What is the role of art in tragedy? Healing? Therapy? Self-expression? Understanding?
- October 1 to 31, “Dystopian Lit. and Why It’s Important” exhibit at the Circulations Desks in the Main Gallery.
- Tuesday, October 3, 7 p.m., “Survival!: Tips & Anecdotes.” Could you survive in the wild? Join Dolphin Riggs, Burt Emmerson and Joe Kelley as they explain tools and strategies needed to survive alone in nature. Emmerson and Kelley are backpackers, and have taught and camped in the backcountry many times. Kelley is a retired Great Smoky Mountains National Park ranger. Join them for tips, strategies and stories. This event will be held in the Sharon Lawson Room.
- Saturday, Oct. 14, 2-4 p.m., Gaming @ Your library, featuring Pandemic Board Game & Pandemic: The Cure: Join the team of specialists and rescue humanity from four diseases that have broken out and threaten the world in this game based on a fictitious plot. Play these two games, find the cures and save mankind. This month, teens and adults are also invited to learn and play the hit strategy board games Pandemic and Pandemic: The Cure, tense races against four killer diseases that threaten the world’s population. Players must collaborate to find a cure and stop the diseases – if even one virulent plague breaks out of containment, everyone loses! It’s a heart-pounding competition against an all-too-real foe. This event will be in the Sharon Lawson Room.
- Thursday, October 19, 7 p.m., “Station Eleven Adult Coloring.”We all know surviving a fictitious pandemic, and then surviving in the post-apocalyptic world, is stressful and tiring. So calm down while being creative. Color pandemic- and “Station Eleven”-themed coloring pages. This program will be in the Reference Area of the library.
- Monday, October 23, 7 p.m., “Southern Appalachian Studies Series: TVA’s Global Career - East Tennessee and the World,” presented by Tore C. Olsson, Ph. D., UTK. Today, many define southern Appalachia by its isolation and disconnection from the world. This presentation argues the opposite – that East Tennessee in particular has had a massive global footprint. Olsson will look specifically at the Tennessee Valley Authority, the New Deal-era rural development program, and how various nations sought to imitate its program within their own nations during the Cold War years. This program will be in the Sharon Lawson

Room.

- Thursday, October 5, 7 p.m., “What Baby Boomers Need to Know About Social Security,” presented by Kevin Proffitt, Certified Financial Planner, Wealth Management Advisor and Managing Director of Northwest Mutual - Knoxville. As baby boomers fast approach retirement years, some critical questions arise: How much social security can I expect to receive? When should I apply for social security? How can I maximize my benefits? Will social security be enough to live on? Proffitt will answer these questions and help audience members know better how to plan for, apply for, and manage social security benefits. The program will be in the Sharon Lawson Room.
- Monday, October 9, 6:30 p.m., “Fiscal Fitness: Personal Banking Options” will be presented by Andrea Warnick, Branch Manager at Regions Bank. Ever wonder what the benefits of banking are and why you should open an account? What are the different types of accounts available to you and how do you set one up? Perhaps you’re not sure what the differences are between a bank and a credit union. Are there fees involved? How is your money protected once you deposit it? This banking class will provide a basic overview of these things and more related to banking and is open to any interested community member. This program will be in the Kathy Pagles Board Room.
- Saturday, October 14, 9 a.m. until 12 noon. “Free Legal Advice Clinic.” Part of LAET’s Pro Bono Project, the Advice Clinic is offered in celebration of National Pro Bono Month. Volunteer attorneys from the Blount County Bar Association will join LAET staff attorneys to provide free advice on various legal matters. “Legal help will be available on a first come, first served basis,” says Dr. Kathryn Ellis, LAET’s Pro Bono Project Director. “The public will be able to seek advice on topics such as adoption, child custody & support, criminal defense, divorce, elder law, foreclosure, identity theft, personal injury, VA benefits, wills, worker’s comp, and more.” The clinic is open to the public regardless of income level. No appointment is necessary. The clinic will be in the Sharon Lawson Room and Board Room of the library. For more information regarding this program, please contact Legal Aid of East Tennessee at 307 Ellis Avenue, Maryville, Tennessee 37801, (865) 981-1818 or 637-0484, or visit www.laet.org
- Monday, October 16, 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., “Landscaping with Wood Ornamentals,” presented by John Wilson, Blount County UT Extension Agent, and trainer for the Blount County. Plan your landscape with wood ornamentals that thrive in this East Tennessee climate. You’ll learn characteristics of woody plant material and proper placement within the landscape as well as appropriate planting information. Wilson will also cover care and maintenance of wood ornamentals so that your landscape is successfully enhanced. Part of a four-part series of landscape and gardening programs, this presentation will be in the Sharon Lawson Room. This presentation will be in the Sharon Lawson Room.
- Thursday, October 19, 5:30-8:30 p.m., “Take Back the Night” at the library is a Sexual Assault and Domestic Violence Awareness event co-sponsored by Pellissippi State Community College and the Blount County Public Library. The event will be held at the library. “Take Back the Night” is designed to promote safe communities and respectful relationships while seeking to end sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, sexual abuse and all other forms of sexual violence.
The evening will feature a series of events:
 - 5:30 p.m., Introduction– Meet in Reading Rotunda end of Main Gallery for welcome & sign-making. Ready-made signs will be provided by PSCC, or materials will be available for participants to make their own signs. Arrive earlier than 5:30 if you desire to make a sign.

- 5:45 p.m., Walk/March- Follow a prescribed parade route (approximately 1 mile) through downtown Maryville, beginning and ending at the Blount County Public Library's Reading Rotunda and Main Gallery.
- 7 p.m., Speak Out or Informational Session – Attend the session of your choice:
 - Speak Out – Participants 18 years of age and older may attend this session which will include a guest speaker from The Helen Ross McNabb Sexual Assault Center of East Tennessee and voluntary audience sharing in the Sharon Lawson Room. Mental health counselors will be on hand to offer support as needed.
 - 7 p.m., Self Defense and Safety: Informational Session - This will be a general self-defense and safety session by the Maryville Police Department. They will include self-defense protection actions and will invite audience members to practice if they desire to do so. This session will be open to the general public as well as interested Take Back the Night participants, including those under 18 years of age. This session will be held in the Reading Rotunda end of the Main Gallery.
 - 8:15 p.m., Finale/Candlelight Vigil – Following the presentation sessions, attendees will proceed to the back patio area of the library, near the pedestrian bridge, for the concluding ceremony.
- Thursday, October 19, 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m., “Station Eleven Adult Coloring.” Remember the carefree joy of picking up your favorite crayon or marker and adding color to a beautiful picture? Experience the same fun and relaxation even though you are now an adult! For this program, sponsored by the Blount County Friends of the Library, participants (teens and older) can bring their own coloring books and materials, or you can select from a variety of intricate adult coloring pages and utilize coloring supplies provided at the library. Just show up at the library at 7 p.m., on the third Thursday of every month, select a fun design and color away to your heart's content. This program will be in the Reference Area of the library.
- Monday, October 23, 7 p.m., “Southern Appalachian Studies Series: TVA's Global Career - East Tennessee and the World,” presented by Tore C. Olsson, Ph. D., UTK. Today, many define southern Appalachia by its isolation and disconnection from the world. This presentation argues the opposite – that East Tennessee in particular has had a massive global footprint. Olsson will look specifically at the Tennessee Valley Authority, the New Deal-era rural development program, and how various nations sought to imitate its program within their own nations during the Cold War years. This program will be in the Sharon Lawson Room.
- Wednesday, October 25, 11 a.m., “Medicare Plans and Changes for 2018.” Joani Shaver, Blount County Office on Aging Director, will discuss Medicare and the changes for 2018: What's new this year, What Medicare Parts A and B cover, Medicare costs, Health and prescription drug plans and Fraud prevention. Shaver will discuss Medicare and Medicaid, Medigap/Supplemental Plans, enrollment in Medicare prescription drug plans (Part D), Low Income Subsidy, finding help with the cost of prescription drugs during coverage gaps and access to drugs not covered under Part D, Medicare Advantage options, claims and billing problem resolution, information and referral on public benefit programs, employer and retiree health insurance options for those with Medicare, and VA benefits and other military health insurance for those with Medicare. Participants are encouraged to visit www.medicare.gov prior to the presentation to come to the presentation with their questions. The program's goal is solely to help consumers make informed decisions and will be in the Sharon Lawson Meeting Room of the library.
- Monday, October 30, 7 p.m., “Ghosts and Appalachian Literature: The Dead Shall Rise,” present by Melanie K. Hutsell. Appalachia is a land uniquely haunted by the past, and the figure of the ghost in its literature often dramatizes this experience of the ever-present past in the lives of Appalachians. Ghosts also appear in oral traditions from the area, and not a few Appalachian writers have been influenced and inspired by the region's lore. Melanie K. Hutsell will discuss her debut novel in this context, sharing how family stories, an interest in folklore, and her experience of her Appalachian heritage led her to write The Dead Shall Rise. From Celtic Cat Publishing, an award-winning Knoxville publisher founded in 1995, the novel is set in the fictional mountain village of Beulah Creek, whose ordinary inhabitants are unsettled by the arrival of a stranger woman, seeking shelter from a mysterious past, who moves into the town's haunted house. This program will be held in the Sharon Lawson Room.

- Thursday, November 2, 7 p.m. , “Foothills Voices: Stories of Appalachia.” Based on a year-long writing class project by the Blount County Public Library, 12 unpublished East Tennessee writers published an anthology of stories set in Appalachia. Stories included true accounts of Revolutionary War-era ancestors, civil rights pioneers, Native Americans, coal miners, mill workers, orphans ... and even a murder! At this book launch, four of those writers will share their stories and something of the writing process in which they engaged. Books will be for sale at the presentation. Alice Kolbe, a native of Blount County will share her story about Decoration Day in the Smokies; Cathy Madden, a retired educator, will talk about her parents' life in a coal camp; Cynthia Spitler, a library staff member, will discuss memories of growing up in the small town of Talbott, TN; Faye Wooden, professional storyteller, will relate the tragic death of a little girl in the Smokies in 1910. These writers “reveal the rich and varied heritage of Southern Appalachia while giving voice to stories that transcend regional limitations,” according to Brennan LeQuire, an anthology editor. This program was sponsored by the Blount County Friends of the Library. The program will be in Dorothy Herron Room A.
- Monday, November 6, 7 p.m., “Dulcimer Concert” at the library by the Maryville Area Dulcimer Club. The concert, featuring popular, patriotic, classical and even some holiday songs, will be in the Reading Rotunda end of the Main Gallery of the library.
- Thursday, November 9, 7 p.m. , “Real News/Fake News: What's the Difference?” How do we determine what is true and what is false news in the daily landslide of information presented in media? The League of Women Voters of Blount County has invited a panel of experienced journalists and communication professionals to share their knowledge with the public. They will talk about how they, as professionals, determine if news is accurate and will share tips on how the viewing audience can determine the accuracy of news. Panelists for this program are Rachel McClelland, Director of Communications for the University of Tennessee School of Law and teacher in the College of Communications; Deborah Fisher, Executive Director of the Tennessee Coalition for Open Government and former senior editor for news for “The Tennessean;” Melissa Erickson, Multi-platform producer at WBIR-TV and former reporter with “The Daily Times;” Thomas Fraser, Senior Content Specialist with Ripley Public Relations. This presentation will be in the Sharon Lawson Room.
- Friday, November 10, “Library Closed in Honor of Veterans' Day.”
- Monday, November 13, 6:30 p.m., “Fiscal Fitness: Identity Theft & Credit Fraud” will be presented by Andrea Warnick, Branch Manager from Regions Bank. Identity theft, scams and fraud are serious issues. The Department of Justice reports there were 17.6 million victims of identity theft in 2014. How can you prevent identity theft and fraud? What protections do you have by law? This class includes the warning signs and how it happens. Finally, you should know how to deal with fraud and identity theft if it happens to you. This program will be in Dorothy Herron Room A.

Teen New Events: (See recurring events below the New Events)

- Sundays, Oct. 8 and Oct. 22, 2 p.m. until 4 p.m., “Teen Writers Group Interest Meeting.” Calling all writers! If you are looking for inspiration, motivation, feedback or camaraderie, this is your group. Teenagers are invited to join a new writing group, which meets every other Sunday in the Board Room of the library.
- Saturday, Oct. 14: “STEAM Festival,” part of a statewide celebration of science, technology, engineering, arts and math, will bring a host of fun, hands-on activities for all ages, all day long!
 - 10:30 a.m., Science Show with Professor Greybeard: The library’s favorite mad scientist is back to shock kids (and their grownups!), tickle your fancy and your funny bone, and teach all sorts of cool stuff about science. There will be hand-on science booths after the show! In the Main Gallery and Children’s Library.
 - 2:00-4:00 p.m., Gaming @ Your library, featuring PANDEMIC: This regular gaming day (see below) features Wii games on the big screen, including Super Smash Bros., Mario Kart and more. This month, we’re also inviting teens and adults to learn and play the hit strategy board games Pandemic and Pandemic: The Cure, tense races against four killer diseases that threaten the world’s population. Players must collaborate to find a cure and stop the diseases – if even one virulent plague breaks out of containment, everyone loses! It’s a heart-pounding competition against an all-too-real foe. This event will be in the Sharon Lawson Room.
 - 2:00-4:00 p.m., Craft Jam: Redwork Embroidery: Learn to do Redwork Embroidery with preprinted patterns! Margaret and Sassy of Twisted Sisters Quilt Shop (320 Court St., Maryville) will bring fabric, embroidery floss and needles – try your hand at this simple but beautiful craft, or just watch other crafters at work. In the Main Gallery.
- Saturday, Oct. 14, 2:00-4:00 p.m., “Gaming @ Your Library Featuring Pandemic.” Games of all kinds! Board games, Wii Sports, Super Smash Bros., MarioKart, or bring your own Wii or tabletop game to share. Bring friends! As part of STEAM Festival (see Teen New Events STEAM Festival), Gaming @ Your Library will host a special dual session of the hit board games Pandemic and Pandemic: The Cure along with the regular action. Learn to play this collaborative thriller game and fight off a global disease outbreak. Gaming will take place in Sharon Lawson Room.
- Tuesday, Oct. 24, 6:30 p.m., “Film and Discussion Series: A Time for Justice: America’s Civil Rights Movement.” Watch the Oscar-winning short documentary film that concisely captures the turbulent and inspiring Civil Rights Movement, crucial to understanding 20th-century American history and the many ways it continues to influence our politics and culture. Be sure to stay for a vibrant discussion after the 38-minute film. This is the first of three film nights co-sponsored by Talking with Kids and Teens about Race, a community education initiative; the series continues on Nov. 7 and Nov. 14. The film and discussion take place in The Learning Lab (in the separate building adjoining the library parking lot).
- Saturday, Oct. 28, 2 p.m., “Video Game Trivia.” Test your wits and win gaming cred! Our trivia master will challenge you with questions about all kinds of video games, across platforms. And remember what Chief says in “Animal Crossing”: “Don’t wish it were easier; wish you were better.” Video Game Trivia takes place in Dorothy Herron Room A.

- Tuesday, Nov. 7, 6:30 p.m., “Film and Discussion Series: Selma, the Bridge to the Ballot.” This short documentary brings to life the drama, zeal and danger of the massive 18-day march from Selma, Alabama, to the state capital of Montgomery in 1965, one of the important milestones of America’s Civil Rights Movement. After the 40-minute film, stay for a vibrant discussion of its subject and its implications for today. This is the second of three film nights co-sponsored by Talking with Kids and Teens about Race, a community education initiative; the series continues on Nov. 14. The film and discussion take place in The Learning Lab (in the separate building adjoining the library parking lot).

Teen Recurring Events – Phone (865) 273-1414:

Elementary Age Activities New Events: (See recurring events below the New Events)

- Saturday, October 14: “STEAM Festival,” part of a statewide celebration of science, technology, engineering, arts and math, will bring a host of fun, hands-on activities for all ages, all day long!
 - 10:30 a.m., Science Show with Professor Greybeard: The library’s favorite mad scientist is back to shock kids (and their grownups!), tickle the fancy and the funnybone, and teach all sorts of cool stuff about science. There will be hand-on science booths after the show! In the Main Gallery and Children’s Library.
 - 12:30-1:30 p.m., Scribfolio Workshop for kids and adults: Anyone can be an artist! Think you can’t draw? No worries: With Scribfolio your scribbles become art. Cindy McDannel of Fine Arts Blount will lead this fun workshop for ages 6 and up. Please pre-register with the Children’s Library (call 865-273-1414 or 865-982-0981, ext. 114) to ensure we have enough materials for the class. Workshop takes place in the Dorothy Herron Room A.
 - 1:00-4:00 p.m., Coding Workshops for Kids: Grades 5-8 are invited to learn real computer coding with Thomas Proffen of ORNL and Oak Ridge Computer Science Girls! There are THREE separate workshops – sign up for one or all three! (1) You Can Code: Think coding is hard? Everyone can code. Join in and get started. Blockly, a drag and drop language, will be used to instruct the computer. (2) Building Virtual Worlds: Create your very own virtual world using cospaces.io. This class combines creativity in creating a 3D virtual world with coding to make it come alive. (3) Mobile Apps and Games: Learn how to develop apps or games for mobile devices using Microsoft’s free TouchDevelop development platform! Pre-register in the Children’s Library (call 865-273-1414 or 865-982-0981, ext. 114) or message on Facebook. The workshop takes place in Dorothy Herron Room B.
 - 2:00-4:00 p.m., Craft Jam: Redwork Embroidery: Learn to do Redwork Embroidery with preprinted patterns! Margaret and Sassy of Twisted Sisters Quilt Shop will bring fabric, embroidery floss and needles, so try your hand at this simple but beautiful craft, or just watch other crafters at work! This workshop will be in the Main Gallery.
- Thursday October 19, 4:15 p.m., “Girl Scout Storytime.” GS Troop 20275 visits for a unique storytime and crafts. In the Children’s Library.
- Saturday, October 21, 10:30 a.m., “Charles the Pig.” Visit a real-life wildfire survivor and local hero, Charles the Pig, who survived the Gatlinburg wildfires last fall. Charles will visit the library with his human, Robert Holmes, who co-wrote a children’s book about Charles’ adventures. The book, “The Miraculous Story of Charles the Pig,” will be available for purchase and signing after this special storytime treat in the Children’s Library.
- Saturday October 28, 10:30 a.m., “Sensory Movie Fun: “Labyrinth.” If your little ones – or bigger ones! – struggle with the stillness and quiet expected at a movie theater, or if they find the darkened room or loud sound system of a commercial cinema overstimulating, this new family event is for you! Enjoy “Labyrinth,” a puppet-filled tale of adventure and hijinks about a girl who must go on a mysterious quest to rescue her baby brother from the sinister Goblin King. You'll have fun viewing this fantasy without the pressures of stillness and silence, and with a low, constant light level. LEGOs and a puppet-making craft station will be set up to add to the fun and give short attention spans an extra way to engage. Everyone is welcome! The movie will be shown in the Sharon Lawson Room.

- Tuesday, October 31, 5:30-7:30, "Trick or Read." Wear your costume to the library for special treats – books! Visit any service desk (or all of them) and get candy and even a free children's book! Be on the lookout for library staff in costume, too. This event will be in the Children's Library, at Information Services (Reference Desk) and Patron Services (Circulation Desk).
- Thursday, November 2, 10:30 a.m., "KSO Musical Storytime." The Knoxville Symphony Orchestra's string quartet visits with a special music-filled edition of "Little Learners." Join the storytelling virtuosos in the Children's Library.
